TO GIVE THE CITY THE TOMB

GRANT MONUMENT ASSOCIATION AUTHORIZES GEN. PORTER.

A Formal Minute Entered Praising and Thanking Him for the Work Which Made the Frection of the Temb Possible - Orders for the Parade-The Naval Demonstration

At a meeting of the Grant Monument Association yesterday Gen. Horace Porter, President of the association, was authorized formally to turn over the tomb of Gen. Grant to the city authorities. An official record was made at the same time of the credit to which Gen Porter is entitled in the successful accomplish ment of the work of the association. The meeting was attended by Gen. Porter, Elihu Root former Gov. A. B. Cornell, Frank Tilford, former Mayor Abram S. Hewitt. President Henry W. Cannon of the Chase National Bank, Gen. Daniel S. Butterfield, Cornelius O'Reilly, Justice Taintor, Peter A. Cassidy, Thomas C. Smith, Horace L. Hotchkiss, Gen. Wager Swayne, Samuel McMillan, Sam Sloan, Gilber Jones, and W. A. Copp. Mr. Hotchkiss, in the absence of James C. Reed, the Secretary of the association, who is very ill, acted as Secretary. The following, walch was offered by Gen. Butterfield and seconded by Elihu Root, was adopted unanimously: "The Grant Monument Association charged by the Legislature in its act of Feb. 3, 1886, with the duty of procuring voluntary contributions and erecting therewith a suit s, 1886, with the duty of procuring voluntary contributions and erecting therewith a suitable monument or other memorial to the memory of the illustrious Gen. Grant at Riverside Park. That duty has been performed, and the association now authorizes its President in behalf of the corporation to formally deliver the completed structure to the custody of the Mayor, Alcermen, and Commonalty of the city of New York.

"The association directs that the official record of its corporate acts for the period ending April 27, 1897, be closed by the entry of the following minute:

"The chief and substantial credit for the successful accomplishment of this work of parrants sentiment, of affectionate regard for the memory of our great leader, and of national self-respect, is due to the President of the association, Gen. Horace Porter.

"He was elected to the Presidency at a time when, for more than six years, the undertaking had languished, when the original design seemed to have been imperilled.

"Hi affection for the chief to whom he had been bound by the closest ties in war and peace, his parriotism and his civic pride inspired him with an unselfish devotion.

"His strong personality infused his spirit throughout the whole association. Confidence in his will and his ability renewed public expectation of success.

"His faith in the people's feeling for Gen.

throughout the whole association. Confidence in his will and his ability renewed public expectation of success.

"His faith in the people's feeling for Gen. Grant led him to appeal directly to them. His power of organization and capacity for administrative details enabled him to reach 'hem. By the selection and direction of faithful and efficient assistants, by organizing, committees in every trade and calling, by pressing home the sense of duty to every individual citizen, he accomplished in sixty days what six years had failed to hring about, and procured the necessary fund. And this fund came from more than 60,000 voluntary contributors, so that the monument which we are about to dedicate is built not with money compelled by taxation from un willing hands, but wholly with the free offerius of grateful hearts.

"Then with unremitting care he directed the building. He made every contract, and saw that it was faithfully performed. He scrutinized every detail. He enforced right economy, so that the expenses of administration have been but a small fraction of the interest received upon the fund; and every contributor may know that every nemny of his contribution has actually sone into the construction of the monument itself. With constant thought and labor he has carried out the plan, and kent the cost within the fund. So that the completion of the work may be regarded with unmarred satisfaction.

"For this great public service we believe Gen.

in the fund. So that the completion of the work may be regarded with unmarred satisfaction.

"For this great public service we believe Gen. Porter to be entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and especially to that of the citizens of New York, whose honor was of the citizens of New York, whose honor was so deeply involved.

"This record is made to impress the grateful appreciation of his associates in the Grant Monument Association."

John H. Duncan, the architect of the Grant Monument, was elected a trustee, and the bylaws of the association were amended so as to permit of the election of an assistant secretary, Walter C. Gibson being elected to the place. Resolutions were adopted expressing deep regret over the filness of Secretary Reed and an earnest hope for his necessary, and a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Root, Swayne and Caunon, was appointed to take any proper action in regard to his filness.

THE NAVAL DEMONSTRATION

dmiral Bunce Probably Will Have the Programme Completed To-Day.

Admiral Bunce, in command of the North Atlantic Squadron, and Capt. Chester, representing the Navy Department on Gen. Dodge's staff, exchanged visits yesterday, and will have the naval programme of the Grant Monument Dedication arranged to-day, probably. The United States men-of-war will leave their pres ent anchorage off Tompkinsville at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, and will steam up the Hudson to a point opposite Grant's tomb. On the right of the line of anchored boats will be the President's flagship Dolphin and Admiral unce's flagship, New York; behind these will be the foreign men-of-war, arranged in line according to the rank of the officer commanding each ship. The foreign vessels will probably proceed up the river at the same time as the American fleet. The divisions of revenue and American fiest. The divisions of revenue and lighthouse service boats will go up the river on Tuesday morning, reaching their anchorages below the men-of-war by 12:40. The merchant marine division will parade up the river, leaving Red Hook at 2 o'clock and arriving off the monument about 3 or 4 o'clock. This division will turn 'lout a stakeboat about half a mile above the monument, and return on the west, adulting, by dipping colors for one half minute, the dage of national yearsh. As the head of the isen parade seaches

the monument, a very rapid national salute of the monument, a very rapid national salute of twenty-one guns, one every four seconds, will be fired from all United States warships, beginning with the flagship New York. Admiral Bunce will also ask the foreign vessels carrying a saluting battery to join him. This national salute will be repeated if the President reviews the fleet, but a doubt is being expressed as to whether he will do this. All vessels will be "dressed, rainbow fashion." J. G. Sobral, naval attaché of the Spanish Legation, has reported that the Maria Tercsa will arrive on the 24th. All the officers abourd the English ship Talbot and the French ship Fulton have been invited to attend the naval reception at the Waldorf on the 28th. A special invitation was sent to the President last week. There will be an attempt and to have the Mexican Military Band present also.

A warrant for $150 has been drawn against the city appropriation for Grant Day, and that amount has been sent to Jesse R. Grant for travelling expenses. He is expected to arrive on elling expenses. He is expected to arrive on the 25th.

A large force of men continues at work at the monument, and is making good progress. The rest of the purple silk screens were placed over the windows in the tomb yesterday. The two marble pillars from the temporary tomb will be moved to-day, and the old tomb will be torn down. Work was started yesterday on the triumphal arch across the East Drive. Along the sixteen blocks immediately south of the tomb there are twelve solid blocks of stands now built or in process of building. It was reported yesterday that lumber was getting scarce in the city, owing to this unusual demand. Several Grant Day displays were made yesterday, and it is expected that the city will be very handsomely decorated on the 27th.

Mexico's National Band Coming

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, April 21.-The old Eighth Cavalty band, known as President Diaz's staff band, passed through here to-day on its way from the city of Mexico to New York, where it will represent Mexico at the Grant Tomb exer-cises. The band is composed of forty-two pieces, and is led by Capt. Encarnaceon Payen.

REPORTS OF RATE CUTTING.

Dentals by the Accused Roads That Commissions Have Been Paid.

OMAHA, Neb., April 21.-The report is current here to-day that the Missouri Pacific and the Union Pacific have been paying commissions for the sale of tickets by ticket brokers. The local passenger representatives of both roads vigorous ly deny that there is the slightest truth in the report. One Union Pacific official said this morning:
"I can state positively that the Union Pacific "I can state positively that the Union Pacific has not paid any commissions to anybody except regularly authorized agents since the road went into the hands of the receivers."

There will be a meeting of Western passenger men in Chicago to-morrow. Among other things that will be brought up for consideration will be the payments alleged to have been made to the brokers by the two roads mentioned.

WESTERN RAILROAD PLANS. Passenger Agents Discuss the Proposed New

Agreement as to Rates. CHICAGO, April 21.-The Western Passenger Association has not yet adopted the new agree ment upon which the members have been engaged for a fortnight, and the railroad men say they will be well satisfied if they can get it through by to-morrow evening. The general passenger agents met to-day to enter upon an earnest discussion of its various articles change earnest discussion of its various articles clause by clause.

In many instances this discussion became ani-mated. So far as the discussion has yet gone, the work of the committee has stood the test re-markably well and no radical changes have been made in the draft submitted. The committee is backed up in its work by opinions from counsel from all the leading roads in Chicago that the proposed agreement as submitted is unquestion-ably level. proposed as ably legal.

First Catch Your Rels, Then Measure 'Em. To all fishermen who at any time cast line or set pot for the clusive eel in the town of Hempstend I. I., take notice: That it were better to take along a string twelve inches long, or a tape neasure, or something that will measure a foot. Then when you catch your cel, measure him. Then when you catch your cel, measure him. This isn't casy. Eels are slick, alippery things, and how to hold one out straight while you take his inches will prove a puzzler, but it must be done, unless a little thing like committing a misdemeanor doesn't bother you. At a meeting of the Queens county Board of Supervisors yesterday an act was adopted making it a misdemeanor to kill cels less than twelve inches long. It was passed for the reason that baymen, when they took in their cel pots, killed the small cels instead of throwing them back.

indictment Against Court Clerk Murray Die

The Supreme Court Grand Jury was dismissed yesterday. The record of work done by the body is forty-four indictments found and forty-two complaints dismissed. Among the latter was one against Benjamin B. Murray, formerly a clerk in the Court of Special Sessions. The complaint alleged that on Oct. 13, 1896, Murray Issued an order, purporting to be signed by William M. BIERSTADT BOOK BUYERS PAY WELL FOR THEM. Tennysons, Swinburnes, and Wallers in the Greatest Demand-Tennysons Show Some Odd Fluctuations-Autographs and Book-Plates to Go Under the Hammer To-Day.

The high prices realized by the Sheridans at Tuesday's session of the Blerstadt sale illus trate the fact that the auction price of books is not always the standard of valuation. Evidently two buyers had unlimited authority to bid, and the one who had the stiffest backbone won. The first edition of "The School for Scan dal" had never sold for over $100, and yet it fetched $210. The same figures apply to "The Rivals," London, 1773. "The Critic," London 1781, is a comparatively common book, and ye it brought $27.
The interest in yesterday's sale was centred around the Swinburnes, Tennysons, and Wal-lers. The prices given for them were in most instances quite up to the market value, and in several cases in excess. Poetry brings more in rare books than prose, lyrical poetry more than narrative or didactic. "Tennyson's Poems," chiefly lyrical, London, 1830, in the origina boards, uncut, brought $65. "Timbuctoo," the poem which obtained the Chancellor's medal at the commencement at Cambridge in 1829, a ROGERS, PEET & Co. thin 8 vo in paper wrappers, went for $56. "In Memoriam," a far greater poem than any of those contained in the other volumes, brought a much smaller sum.

The "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington," London, 1852, a common book twenty years ago, when a great many copies went begging at $2, brought a fair price.

To-day's session is the last. Some fine autograph letters are to be offered, some unusually choice portraits by well-known engravers, and many rare book-plates. Appended are the best prices realized at the session yesterday:

Billy Vernon Hovers Between Life and Beath

PRILADELPHIA, April 21.-Billy Vernon, pugilist, who is known to followers of boxing as the "Haverstraw Brickmaker," is lying in a room at the Olympic Club house, Athens, Delaware county, Pa., hovering between life and death, as the outcome of a fistic encounter with Leslie Pearce, a Camden light weight, last night. Pending the result of Vernon's injuries, Pearce has been placed under arrest.

At an early hour this morning it was reported that Vernon is suffering from concussion of the brain. For thirteen rounds the men fought evenly, although Pearce appeared to have scored the greater number of points. In the fourteenth the greater number of points. In the fourteenth round, after some preliminary sparring. Vernon led with his left, and was countered lightly by Pearce. The latter then led and landed a series of punches on Vernon's jaw, and finally delivered a short left arm punch on Vernon's short ribs in the region of the heart.

This blow dazed Vernon. He staggered half way around the ring and dropped to his knees, clutching wildly at the ropes. A look of agony crept over his face. He made a frantic effort to struggle to his feet, and was in the act of falling when one of his seconds rushed over to him and helped him to his feet. Vernon staggered part way around the ring again and fell in a heap. He lay apparently lifeless for some time, and the efforts of his seconds to resuscitate him were futile. Several doctors in the crowd crawled through the ropes and tried to revive Vernon. In this they were unsuccessful. He was carried to his dreasing room, and there the physicians injected brandy into his arms, but he still remained unconscious.

Vernon is very well known in this city. He has been before the public for over six years, and during his career in the ring he has met and defeated several boxers of note. Vernon is about 27 years of age. The first real defeat he sustained was when he met Billy Ernst at Coney Island a few years ago. Ernst and Vernon were matched to box tan rounds, and Vernon was having all the best of it when Ernst crossed him on the jaw with his right hand and put the Brickmaker to sleep. Vernon had to be carried to his corner and did not revive for several hours. In speaking of the incident Vernon recently said to a Sun reporter that he was laid up several months afterward as a result of the battle, and was threatened with concussion of the brain. He admitted that he was not in the best of condition at the time. Vernon's last light in this city was with Jack Daly of Wilmington at the Palace A. C. He was defeated with a light punch in the stomach. Vernon has been repeatedly advised not to fight, as his constitution is not as robust as it should be. It is said that Vernon dees not smoke, drink, or use tobacco in any form, and that he takes plenty of exercise. drink, or use tobacco in any form, and that he akes plenty of exercise.

St. Bartholomew Athletes Entertain

An interesting musical entertainment fol lowed by athletic games and a gymnastic drill was given last night in the gymnasium of the St. Bartholomew's Club at 209 East Forty-sec ond street. The club is at present making great strides in the athletic world and contains some of the best amateur athletes in the city. After an exhibition of club swinging the members induled in a light gymnastic drill. In the running high jump Joe Conlin, the all-around champion, easily disposed of his competitors by clearing 5 feet 5 inches, and further distinguished himself by ticing A. G. Harvey for first honors in the pole vault, each man clearing 9 feet 6 inches. GOLFERS TO MEET AT LAKEWOOD,

The Annual Spring Tournament Begins To-Day with a Large Entry List. In the annual Easter week tournament at the Lakewood Golf Club, which begins this morning, a field of golfers only second to the array which started in the amateur championship will contest for the prizes. The hotel proprietors at Lakewood are strong supporters of golf, the Laurel House always offering cups for the au-tumn and the Laurel-in-the Pines for the spring open tournaments. The Laurel-in-the-Pine match play cup last season was won by Herbert C. Leeds, who had been playing with the Palmetto Golf Club, and James A. Tyng, after a tie with Leeds, won the handicap cup on the nine

THE LAKEWOOD GOLF PRIZE

This season the Laurel-in-the-Pines cup is a solid silver pitcher nearly ten inches high, weighing thirty-five ounces, of a plain form, but beautifully ornamented with a twined wreath weighing thirty-five ounces, of a plain form, but be autifully ornamented with a twined wreath of laurel and pine. Both were made by Theodore B. Starr. The hotel also donates the Consolation prize, a glass and silver carafe with similar decorations. The Golf Club gives the other prizes, two silver cups, a gold medal, and two silver trophies.

Play begins this morning with the preliminary eighteen-hole medal play. The maker of the best score wins the gold medal. In the afternoon the makers of the sixteen best scores begin at match play rounds for the Laurel-in-the-Pines Cup, the others starting for the Consolation Cup. The play will continue to-morrow, and, besides the finals on Saturday, there will be an eighteen-hole open handicap. Entries for the handicap close on Friday evening.

The golfers entered include H. C. Leeds, A. H. Fenn, C. H. Bohlen, and W. R. Sweny, who represent the Palmetto Golf Club farm; James A. Tyng, H. P. Toler, J. R. Chadwick, F. A. Waithew, W. J. Travis, C. T. Stout, G. E. Armstrong, S. D. Bowers, F. W. Menzies, C. C. Curtiss, R. B. Kerr, H. L. Pratt, Paul Kimball, W. K. Betts, Jasper Lynch, and J. W. Biddie, of the Philadelphia Country Club, the winner in the recent open tournament at Washington.

Norton has the course in splendid order, and there was a crowd out for practice yesterday. Jasper Lynch, who has easily led the home players in the winter competitions and is back in his form of 1895, cut down the amateur record, his own, by two strokes, and may be a dangerous factor. His card was:
